The Great European Cough Remedy.

Important to the Consumptive and the Public generally—The celebrated

Universal Cough Mixture

IS a safe and effectual Remedy for Coughs of every description, whether of children or adults, of recent or long standing PREPARED ONLY BY REV. WALTER CLARKE, Sole Proprietor, Cornishville, Maine.

Within the last twelve months thousands of bottles of the Universal Cough Mixture have been sold in the State of Maine alone, and everywhere its extraordinary power in relieving and curing the cases of the Chest and Lungs, is gratefully acknowledged, and especially in cases of obstinate and long standing Coughs it speedily allays the unpleasant sensation in the throat which excites coughing, it promotes free and easy expectoration, and by removing the exciting cause of the cough, it frequently enables the sufferers to enjoy natural and refreshing sleep, who for weeks had been deprived of that blessing.

Sold in trial bottles, 25 cents each, large bottles, each containing the quantity of four small ones, 75 cents each.

Extract of a letter from Daniel Adams, Esq., of Bowdoinham, Maine.

To Rev Walter Clarke, Dear Sir—I bought a bottle of Cough Mixture which I bought of you at Topsham and had the effect as far as my wife She has been afflicted with a cough for two years—that bottle entirely removed it.

From Rev Jesse Hoyt, Lewiston Falls

Geo. Clarke—Every bottle of the Universal Cough Mixture which you left with me, I sold—and I have several applications for more As far as I have found it has been perfectly satisfied with the medicine One man, who had a cough of long standing, attended with tightness of the chest and shortness of breath, so that he was laid aside from business, purchased one large bottle, and before he had taken one third of it, was perfectly cured, and has had no cough since He says it is the best medicine in the world, and cannot be recommended too highly

JESSE HAYES.

From Mr Fletcher Chick, agent for North Dexter, Maine.

Dear Sir—A number of the most extraordinary cures have been effected by your Universal Cough Mixture in this place, several who had a cough of six years standing, and others who have been deprived of rest for months without receiving any benefit have been speedily cured by the Universal Cough Mixture.

From Mrs Hubbard, Thorndike, Me

Thomaston, Jan 1, 1854

To Rev Walter Clarke—Dear Sir—This certifies that I have used one bottle of your Universal Cough Mixture for a distressing cough and soreness in the throat I had previously taken several kinds of medicine, and had been under the care of several physicians, without obtaining the least relief Happily your Universal Cough Mixture was recommended to me. I purchased it, and before I began to take according to directions be the bottle, by which in a few days I was entirely cured.

Messrs C & J Marshall—Gentlemen At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to your opinion and experience of your copper-coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards, and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation

Very respectfully yours,

Conducted on 10th of Aug. with her mistress to the Temple, she was immediately afterwards transferred to the prison at La Force. There she saw what the burden was beyond her strength to bear, she wished to die by the side of her queen, and with her queen's blessing, necessary—to have appear- beneath her eyes, death would mistress, she be sweet, but after from him strength to die- life, she no longer had the cour- mould She age to do it. Her soul was no longer of use, became ill with terror. The delicate creature was not ignorant of the hatred excited against her. Shut up in one of the highest chambers of her prison with Madame de Navarre, she saw Madame de Tourzel depart on the night of the 3d of September. It seemed to tell her, you remain to die.

Then, laying on her bed, burned in the clothes at each burst of shrieks which reached her ears, like a frightened child, she panted every minute, and was restored again to consciousness.

"My God!" she cried at each restoration, "I thought I was dead. Oh! that one could die in such a swoon; it is neither difficult nor painful!"

Murder reigned supreme in the court-yard, at the gates, and in the lower chambers. Shrieks were wafted to her on gales of the odor of vaporized blood ascends to her in stifling clouds. At eight o'clock her door was opened. Her terror was great but she did not faint, nor did she even conceal herself beneath her bed clothes, and turning she beheld two National Guards.

"Come, arise madame," said one of them brutally to the princess, "you must go to the Abbey"

"Oh, Messieurs," said she, "I cannot leave my bed I am so weak as to be unable to walk."—And then she added, in an almost inaudible voice, "if it is to kill me, it can be as well done here as elsewhere

Whilst one watched the door, the other guard, bending over whispered in her ear

"Arise, Madame, and obey, we wish to save you."

"If such is the case," replied the prisoner. "Retire, and allow me to dress myself"

The Guards retired, and Mme de Navarre aided, or rather dressed her. When ready, and the Guards re-entered, the princess, taking and leaning upon the arm of him who addressed her, descended the fatal staircase. Arriving at the wicket, she found herself suddenly before the tribunal of blood, over which Herbet presided. At the sight of these men, with bucked up sleeves—at sight of these men, with their ensanguined hands who had thus constituted themselves butchers, she fainted again. Thrice interrogated, as often did she swoon away, without response

"But, Madame," whispered the Guard who had already spoken, "but when you are told that we wish to save you"

This promise gave her a slight renewal of strength.

"What do you ask of me, Messieurs?" she demanded.

"Who are you?" asked Herbet.

"Marie Louise, Princess of Savoy"

"Your quality?"

"Superintendent of the queen's household"

"Were you cognizant of the plots of the Court on the 10th of August?"

"I do not know, that there were any plots on the 10th of August, but if there were, I was completely ignorant of them."

"Swear Liberty, Equality, hatred to the King, the Queen, and to Royalty"

"Willingly will I swear to the two first, but the last I cannot do, as it is against my heart."

"Swear then" whispered the guard "or you are dead"

The Princess stretched out her hands, and staggering, made an instinctive step towards the fatal gate

"But swear then," insisted her protector

Then, as if fearful the terror of death might cause her to pronounce a shameful oath, she placed her hands over her mouth, as if to compress the words which might escape from her in her agony Some groans were heard to escape between her fingers.

"She has sworn," said the National Guard and then whispering to the unfortunate, "Go through the gate which is before you, and in passing, cry out, 'Long live the nation!' and you are saved"

On escaping, she found herself in the arms of a massacrer, who was waiting her — This murderer was the giant Nicholas, who had cut off the heads of the two body guards at Versailles, but on this occasion he had sworn to save the Princess He dragged her toward a shapeless, quivering, bleeding mass, whispering, "Cry aloud, 'long live the nation!'"

Without doubt, she was about to comply, when by misfortune, her eyes were opened. She found herself facing a mountain of corpses, upon which a man trampled with his iron-shod shoes, causing the blood to spirt up beneath his tread, as does the juice of the grape under the heels of the wine maker! She beheld the hideous sight, and turning convulsively aside, could not repress a cry of horror! Even that was stifled by her protector. 100,000 francs had been paid by her father-in-law, the Duke de Penthievre, to save her life.

Thence she was pushed into the narrow passage which leads from the street of St. Antoine to the prison, where a wretch, a hair dresser, named Charlot, who had just enrolled as a drummer in the volunteers, broke through the living wall around her and struck off her cap with his pike. It was unknown whether he intended to remove her cap, or intended to strike her face The blood flowed. Blood excites to blood.

A man threw a bullet of wood at the Princess and struck the back of her head, staggering, she fell upon a knee It was then, impossible to save her. On all sides, the darted sabers and outstretched pikes reached her She did not even moan, she may, indeed, have been considered dead since her last words in the prison, so mute had she become She had hardly expired, perhaps was still living, when the rabble fell upon her, and in an instant her clothing was torn off, and palpitating in the last quivering of mortal agony, was she stripped.

A most hideous thought presided at her death, and hastened this desecration, the rabble wished to see that wondrous form, which the women of Leabon would have worshipped. Thus was she exposed to the eyes of all—as she came into this world was she stretched upon a cupstone

Four men enstalled themselve before this hideous bier, washing and staunching the blood from her seven wounds, a fifth with the ramrod of a gun, pointed out the beauties, which he said, gave rise to our former favor, and which, on that day were the undoubted causes of her death! Thus she remained exposed from eight o'clock till noon. At length the orator became wearied with this scandalous lecture, made on a corpse, a man approached and hacked off her head. Alas, the neck, long and flexible as that of a swan, offered little resistance. He who committed this crime, more hideous on a corpse than on a living being, was called Grason.—History is the most inexorable of divinities; she plucks a quill from her wing, and dipping it in blood, she writes a name, and that name is given to the execration of posterity. This man was shortly afterwards guillotined, as the head of a band of robbers. A second wretch named Rodo, opened her chest and tore out the heart, and a third named Mamin, tore away another portion of the corpse. It was on account of her love in the Queen, that they so mutilated the poor lady. How intense, then, must have been the popular hatred to the Queen!

These disgusting trophies were placed on pikes, and the rabble marched toward the Temple. An immense crowd followed the three hideous assassins; but, with the exception of a few children and some intoxicated men overflowing with wine and the bitterness of abuse, the whole procession maintained a fearful silence. A hair dresser's shop was passed on the way; the assassins stopped and entered.

"Dress that head for us," they cried, "it is going to visit its mistress at the Temple."

The trembling hair-dresser curled and perfumed the magnificent locks of the unfortunate Princess, and the rabble resumed its route toward the Temple, with great outcries.

Mark and remember, that the Bangor Whig alleges that "the people of Kansas very properly refused to recognize" the "laws and authorities" of the Territorial government, and justifies insubordination and disobedience to law in Kansas.—Democrat.

Yes; and mark and remember, that the Bangor Democrat, in common with all the Northern defenders of slavery, upholds the action of President Pierce in SUBDUING the people of Kansas, and making them yield obedience, at the point of the bayonet, to the infamous code of black laws enacted by a Legislature which was chosen for Kansas by ten thousand armed ruffians from the State of Missouri.

"Mark and remember" that it justifies and defends the upholding of this tyrannical usurpation, by which slavery is sought to be fastened upon that Free Territory in violation even of that "squatter sovereignty" doctrine upon which alone Pierce and Douglas pretend to justify the Nebraska-Kansas bill.

These Territorial "laws and authorities" of Kansas, which the Democrat upholds, are the enactments and creatures of a so-called Legislature, imposed upon Kansas by the pistol and bowie-knife, and now sustained by the bayonets of U. S. troops, who are acting reluctantly under the imperative orders of President Pierce.

Do the people remember what some of these "laws" are, thus passed by usurping ruffians and now FORCED upon the people of Kansas by the federal troops, at the command of a pro-slavery administration?

Let them read again some of their provisions—and, remembering the mode and manner of their enactment, say whether the people of Kansas do not "properly refuse to recognize them."

In this free Territory of Kansas, this Missouri slaveholders' Legislature first assumed that slavery rightfully existed, and then proceeded to pass such enactments as the following:

AN ACT TO PUNISH OFFENCES AGAINST SLAVE PROPERTY.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Kansas. That every person, bond or free, who shall be convicted of actually raising a rebellion or insurrection of SLAVES, free negroes or mulattoes, in the Territory, shall suffer death.

SEC. 2. Every free person who shall aid or assist in any rebellion or insurrection of SLAVES, free negroes or mulattoes, or shall furnish arms, or do any overt act in furtherance of such rebellion or insurrection, shall suffer death.

SEC. 3. If any person shall entice, decoy, or carry away out of this Territory, any slave belonging to another, with the intent to deprive the owner thereof of the services of such slave, or with intent to effect or procure the freedom of such slave, he shall be adjudged guilty of Grand Larceny, and on conviction thereof SHALL SUFFER DEATH, OR BE IMPRISONED AT HARD LABOR FOR NOT LESS THAN TEN YEARS.

SEC. 4. If any person AID or assist in enticing, decoying, or persuading, or carrying away, or sending out of this Territory, any slave belonging to another, with intent to deprive the owner thereof of the services of such slave, he shall be adjudged guilty of Grand Larceny, and on conviction thereof SHALL SUFFER DEATH, OR BE IMPRISONED AT HARD LABOR FOR NOT LESS THAN TEN YEARS.

SEC. 11. If any person print, write, introduce into, publish or circulate, or cause to be brought into, printed, written, published or circulated within this Territory, any book, paper pamphlet, magazine, handbill or circular, containing any statements, arguments, opinion, sentiment, doctrine, advice or intended, calculated to produce a disorderly, dangerous or rebellious disaffection among the SLAVES in this Territory, or to induce such slaves to escape from the service of their masters, or to resist their authority, he shall be guilty of felony, and be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term not less than five years.

SEC. 12. If any free person, by speaking or writing, ASSERT OR MAINTAIN THAT PERSONS HAVE NOT THE RIGHT TO HOLD SLAVES IN THIS TERRITORY, or shall introduce into this Territory, print, publish, write circulate, or cause to be introduced into this Territory, any book, paper, magazine, pamphlet or circular, containing ARGUMENTS OF THE RIGHT OF PERSONS TO HOLD SLAVES IN THIS TERRITORY, such person shall be deemed guilty of felony, and punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term of not less than two years.

SEC. 13. NO PERSON WHO IS CONSCIENTIOUSLY OPPOSED TO HOLDING SLAVES, OR WHO DOES NOT ADMIT THE RIGHT TO HOLD SLAVES IN THIS TERRITORY, SHALL SIT AS A JUROR ON THE TRIAL OF ANY PROSECUTION FOR ANY VIOLATION OF ANY SECTION OF THIS ACT.

This act to take effect and be in force from and after the 15th day of September, A. D. 1855.

J. H. STRINGFELLOW, Speaker of the House. Attest, J. M. LYLE, Clerk.

THOMAS JOHNSON, President of the Council. Attest, J. A. HALDERMAN, Clerk.

Another act provides that any person carrying or enticing away any slave from the territory, or aiding to do so, shall suffer DEATH.

Again,—in order to perpetuate their own power, by allowing fresh importations of voters from Missouri to control the future elections in Kansas, the bogus Legislature passed an act with provisions as follows:

AN ACT instituting a Poll tax.

Be it enacted, &c. SECTION 1. That every free white male above the age of 21 years, who shall pay to the proper officer in Kansas Territory the sum of $1 as a poll-tax, and shall produce to the Judges of any election within and for the Territory of Kansas, a receipt showing the payment of said poll tax, SHALL BE DEEMED A LEGAL VOTER, and shall be entitled to vote at any election in said Territory during the year for which the same shall have been paid.

SEC. 5. The provisions of this act, so far as they are applicable, SHALL EXTEND TO AND HAVE FULL FORCE AND EFFECT AT THE NEXT ELECTION FOR MEMBERS OF THE TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE. This act to take effect from and after its passage.

This last it will be seen, allows any man to vote, simply upon paying a poll-tax of $1.—Foreign-born persons, however, not naturalized, are excluded from this privilege. It was feared that such might vote against slavery.

Another "law" provides that aliens desirous of becoming citizens, shall take an oath to support the Fugitive Slave Law.

Still such infamous and atrocious laws as these, passed by a usurping Legislature, which we say ought to be resisted as legal by any freemen in Kansas.

The New York Tribune very properly says:

But they also ask the Free-State men in Kansas to recognize as laws and obey the enactments of the fraudulently returned Territorial Legislature, held at Shawnee Mission last Summer, ask them to give up their whole matter in dispute, and admit not merely that Slavery rightfully may be, but that it already is fastened indelibly on Kansas—and this cannot be.

In our record of proceedings of the City Council on Monday last, reference is made to the petition of certain ancient mariners for an enquiry into the matter of certain obstructions in the tide-waters of Kenduskeag Stream. The petition, which bears internal evidence of native production, may interest our citizens, and we publish it accordingly.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Aldermen and Common Council of the City of Bangor:

The undersigned, citizens of the United States, mariners, respectfully represent that they follow the business of navigating the high seas and taking fish; that they have been in the custom of bringing their fish by water in their fishing vessels up the Kenduskeag Stream, to supply the citizens of Bangor and the parts adjacent; that the said Kenduskeag is a navigable stream, in which the tide ebbs and flows, up the same as far as the Drummond Mills, so called, that is to say for near about one mile above the Custom House; that your petitioners in the pursuit of their proper avocation came up the said Kenduskeag Stream as far as the old City Market, without impediment; that having arrived at that place they found an entire obstruction to the navigation, known as the Kenduskeak Bridge; that just beyond they saw other obstructions, which were called by the names of the "Custom House," "Norombega," "Franklin Bridge," "Central Bridge," and other appellations to your petitioners unknown—and by reason of said obstructions were unable to proceed up to said Drummond's Mills to sell fish to the dwellers thereabouts and to the peasantry from the interior who might there resort—much to the damage of your petitioners as they aver—wherefore they pray your honorable bodies to take counsel and inquire by what warrant these structures aforesaid totally obstruct and impede said navigable stream running through the centre of your city.

And they will ever pray.

Master of schooner Wide Awake, Islesboro.

CHARLES BLUNT,
Master of schooner Light Foot, Castine.

JAMES SMART,
Master of sloop Early Riser, Boothbay.

JOHN CAMPBELL,
Master of schooner Look Out, Searsport.

The petition was referred to a committee, and we are desired to say that if the petitioners are really "Wide Awake," and "Early Risers," if they keep a sharp "Look-out," and are "Light-footed," as the petition indicates, they will find the committee on hand to consider the subject of grievance whereupon the petitioners report themselves.

Judge Cutting who has been holding a laborious term of the Supreme Court here since the first of April, is one of the sitting Justices at the present law term in Portland, and Judge Appleton finished up the docket here. The distinction between law and nisi prius Judges was abolished by the last Legislature. The concurrence of four of the seven members of the Court is required in determining questions.

The present term of the court in this city will probably finish to-day.

The Annual May training comes off this afternoon. The companies to appear out, are the Bangor Light Infantry, Capt. Bartlett; City Cadets, (youths) Capt. Appleton; Rifle Company, Capt. Eaton; and the Grattan Guards of this city. The Brewer Artillery will probably be in the city. The admirers of military spectacles will enjoy the parade, if the weather is favorable.

We understand that "Father Henson" will give an Address at the City Hall, to-morrow evening. His history, both as slave and freeman, is a very remarkable one, and we hope that none of our readers will fail to hear it from his own lips. His friends say he is a wit as well as a martyr, and can tell a story as well as act it.

There is still a great want of vessels for lumber freights at this port. The Journal gives the following as some of the rates that have been or would be paid: For lumber to Medford, $2.50; to Charleston $2.25; over the Shoals $5; to New York $3,50; to the West Indies $8.

The cable to connect Newfoundland with Cape Breton is to be laid down by the manufacturers in the month of June, and it is anticipated that the line will be in working order for the transmission of messages between St. John's and New York by the month of August.

ADVANCE IN SICILY FRUIT.—A letter received in Boston from Palermo, dated April 17, states that upon the news of peace being concluded between Russia and the allies, nearly all the fruit in market had been bought up on Russian account. Oranges had advanced full 50 per cent in consequence.

UNPAID LETTERS.—Miss Hepsibah Weed, Frankfort Mills; Betsey G. Staples, Searsport; Lucy Hanson, Orono; Mrs. Eliza A. Stearns, Lowell, Mass., and Messrs. Welch & Co., Augusta; have letters remaining in the P. O. in this city unpaid.

The alarm of fire yesterday afternoon was occasioned by a kindling on the roof of one of the buildings of Messrs. Whiton & Co.'s Carriage Manufactory on Harlow Street. The fire took from a spark from the blacksmith shop, and was extinguished with a bucket or two of water.

CURE OF VERMILLION.—A few gentlemen in Upper Fauquier, Va., have subscribed two hundred and seventy barrels of corn, and $10 in money, for the suffering inhabitants of those islands, to be delivered in Alexandria.

A Reform School Case.

MR. EDITOR:—As the State Reform School is an institution in which the whole public have an interest you may consider the story I am about to give you, worthy a place in your columns.—It is offered to you, it is the desire of the friends of the boy whom it concerns.

John Feener is an Irish lad of about 16 years of age, who had the misfortune to lose his parents by the Cholera in 1849. They left property enough to support him, and he was taken into the family of his guardian, Edward Dowd of this city, an excellent man, who has cared for him, and used him as he would a son of his own. By the testimony of his guardian and his companions at school, John was a well behaved, smart and amply fellow. Anecdotes are given of him, showing his readiness to prevent the oppression of feeble children by the stronger; and his courage and generous impulses, once led him to throw himself into the river when older and larger boys looked on afraid, and he thereby saved the life of a boy belonging to one of our well known citizens.—John attended one of our city schools, and his friends say that he was treated with so much severity that he was unwilling to go to school.

After trying in vain to have the boy permitted to go to another school, they sent him back to the same teacher, under a verbal promise as they allege, that he should not be whipped for running away, if he would come back. Be this as it may, the teacher undertook to administer a flogging, and John jumped out off the window. Mr. Weaver found him, by the aid of his friends, obtained by promising that he would only take him to the watch house and frighten him a little. Instead, however, he put him into the common jail, and after being kept there three weeks, he was sent to the Reform School.

When his Guardian, and the gentleman whose son's life John had saved, remonstrated against this severity, they were told that John must be made an example of. Since he has been at the School, his friends have received accounts of his invariably good conduct, but they cannot obtain his dismissal, though they pledge themselves to procure a good apprenticeship for him. He is reported to be very useful there by his labors. His letters are seen by the officers of the School, and contain but little that is satisfactory to his friends, and no hope of release is held out to him, though he has been there more than a year. Yet a boy has lately been allowed to leave the School after a few months detention, who was sent therefrom complaints of his father, for nearly murdering his mother! Both John and his friends seem to have as keen a sense of the disgrace of being sent to the Reform School, as any family in Bangor would, in addition to the grief of having John taken from a home to which he was strongly attached.

It may add to the comfort of the authorities at the Reform School, to keep the good boys, and send off the bad ones; their good appearance also, to visitors, who go to see the workings of the Institution, would probably be enhanced by this policy.

Is any comment upon these facts necessary, to prove that despotism in a Republic, is a very possible thing?

A Perfumed Breath.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath when by using the "BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS" as a dentrifice, would not only render it sweet but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know that their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate that friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush, and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cent bottle will last a year. For sale by L. Bugbee & Co. and all druggists. 8&w

Hon. Ebenezer Knowlton, the able and faithful Republican representative in Congress from the Third District in this State says, in a recent letter to Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Rockland, that he shall not be a candidate for re-election.

I have long been of the opinion that, to justify a clergyman in holding a political office, as I now do, he must be a man of superior qualifications, or that he must be such a state of circumstances and duties that he might be elected, when in all probability, no other man equally true to Freedom and Humanity could be elected.

I am not vain enough to suppose that the former will be true in my case; but you will bear me witness, that when I consented to run for Congress two years ago the Anti-Nebraska men of our district did generally believe that the state of things did exist, when in an unorganized state and had no political party newspaper in the district. Now organization, with five newspapers, besides avigrous youth (campaign paper) which promises to do good service. I was urged to go into the field, as such, had never been a candidate before, and the district, the Pierce two to one. Now the current is setting in favor, and no same man can believe that the Pierce party can be elected. Under these circumstances I have come to the above decision, my mind having undergone no change as to my own duty in connexion with the Christian Ministry."

AN ANCIENT BRIG.—The whaling bark Maria, which returned to this port on Sunday from the Pacific, is, we learn, the oldest vessel in the United States. We have so often heard that a repetition of the first ship that sailed on the River Thames in the year of the American Revolution. She has probably outlived on the ocean many of her contemporaries, and promises to do good service yet to her owners.—New Bedford Mercury.

A correspondent writes us, with reference to the Merrimac, that all the U. S. steamships will be reasonably warned out, and that these boilers are to avoid a certain.

The Republican Convention, Hon. Nathaniel Wallace, of Mill-bridge, and Mr. ——, of Sullivan, were elected Delegates to the National Convention—so we hear. The official proceedings have not reached us.—Ellsworth American.

The Congressional Homicide.

The telegraph has given a brief report of the examination of P. S. Herbert, Member of Congress from California, charged with the shooting of Thomas Keating, an Irish waiter at Willard's Hotel, Washington. By the full report in the Washington papers, we see that the testimony given by the waiters and that given by the friends of the prisoner, differs some in the most important points. We copy some of the evidence in full. John Edbright, an elderly man, a waiter, appears to have witnessed the whole affray without taking part in it. He said:

"I was in the dining room when Herbert ordered a servant to bring his breakfast; the servant answered that he could not without an order from the office. Herbert then told the servant to clear out of the room, and called him a "damned Irish son of a b——." Keating stood about three yards from Herbert. Herbert turned and said the same thing to him.—Witness stood in the centre of the room, and could not hear the reply of Keating. Then Herbert stood up and struck Keating on the back of the neck with a pistol. Keating went back to one of the round tables, got a plate and made two attempts at throwing it, but paused. Herbert then took up a chair and threw it at Keating. Keating then threw a plate of Herbert, and came round the edge of the table.

Herbert and Keating met at the side of the table and jostled each other; then a gentleman came in, struck Keating with a chair and broke it; they jostled for a minute, breaking sugar bowls and pitchers; then Pat Keating, the steward, and the brother of the deceased, came in; Herbert laid hold of him and took out a pistol. Pat took hold of the pistol and held it about a minute, while they jostled together.—The other gentleman, (Herbert's friend) followed up and struck Pat Keating with a chair upon the head. Herbert and his friend were engaged with the two Keatings when the French cook came in and seperated them, jostling Pat Keating away so that he let go of the barrel of the pistol; with that Herbert caught hold of the collar of Thomas Keating's coat with his left hand and shot him with his right hand;—saw the blood rush out of Keating's coat; saw no knife drawn.

Was in the room during the whole affray; saw no one strike Herbert; took no hand in the business; when the shot was fired went over to the assistance of the deceased; saw Mr. Herbert's friend throw two or three pitchers, and another friend of Herbert came in, and cried shame;' the table stood about twelve yards from the door; they all met at the door; at a word passed between four of them were engaged in the door and turned at the table, and Mr. Herbert was trying to get his pistol out; Pat only had hold of Herbert; deceased was three or four yards behind; Pat had hold of Herbert at the time Herbert was trying to get his pistol out; Pat had hold of the muzzle of his pistol with his right hand, and his left hand was upon the back of Herbert's neck; the deceased at this time was in front of Herbert; Herbert's friend at this time was whipping deceased with a chair, as soon as Pat Keating let go his hold of the pistol, Herbert shot Tom Keating; Pat's hold upon the pistol was broken by the cook and by the gentleman who came in; the scuffle was not five minutes altogether.

Other waiters were examined, but their testimony was not substantially different from the above.

Among the witnesses for the defense was Col. McKay, who said, after testifying that he was not in the room when the affray commenced:

"Walked up the dining-room some seven or eight feet, and saw six or eight persons engaged in a scuffle; supposed at first it was a general fight among the hotel servants, and was about retiring, when he saw Mr. Gardiner crossing the hall; one of the servants seized a chair and struck Mr. Gardiner, knocking him down; in the act of rising a plate or dish was flung at him, he dodged the blow, and caught it on his hand; witness saw three men striking one man, whom he did not at first recognize, but afterwards ascertained was Herbert. The deceased had Herbert by the right arm, a man in the door held him by the left arm, while another of the servants struck Mr. Herbert with a chair, and the chair breaking, seized a second chair. Herbert's arms at this time were pinned; witness seized a chair to defend Herbert. The three men were evidently endeavoring to hustle Herbert out of a side door. By the time witness got within six paces of the door he heard a pistol fired. Herbert was fairly beaten down in a crouching position; witness did not recognize Herbert until after the pistol was discharged; deceased retired between the tables; after the firing he got Herbert away, and went with him to a magistrate; at the time of the shot Herbert was in a crouching position, and must have been upward; the deceased had hold of Herbert in front, the brother of deceased had hold of him from behind, and another servant was raising him with a chair; was positive that the pistol was fired while the parties were scuffling; witness saw the pistol: it was a single barrel pistol, what is called a Duninger pistol; Herbert had no other pistol about him, and Gardiner had done; most positively only one shot was fired."

VERY SINGULAR AFFAIR.—A very curious instance of confusion has taken place in a family on Lumber street, on Arbor Hill. A mother and her daughter were both confined on the same day, each having a little son. In the bustle of the moment both babies were placed in a cradle, and to the confusion of the mothers, when the youngsters were taken from the cradle they were unable to tell which was the mother's and which the daughter's son—a matter which, of course, must ever remain a mystery. The family is in great distress over the affair.—Albany Knickerbocker.

Highway robberies seem to be the order of the night. William Springer of Bath, Me., was knocked down in North street on Friday night, and robbed of his watch and fifteen dollars. The police arrested a fellow named William Moore, whom they had seen conversing with Springer before, and he was taken before Mr. Justice Rogers on Saturday morning, and charged with the robbery. Moore waived an examination, and, in default of bail in the sum of $1000, he was committed for trial.—Boston Courier.

The intensity of maternal affection was well illustrated in the observation of a sweet little boy who, after reading "Pilgrim's Progress," asked the mother which of the characters she liked best. She replied "Christian, of course, he is the hero of the story." He responded, "I like Christiana best, because when Christian set out on his pilgrimage he went alone, but when Christiana started she took the children with her."

TROUBLE IN THE CAMP.—The democracy of the Second Congressional District are going to have another convention to choose delegates to the National Democratic Convention. One set of delegates was chosen a few weeks since by a convention in Franklin County, according to agreement. What's in the wind?—Lewiston Journal.

LICENSING IN PORTLAND.—The Board of Aldermen have licensed to sell intoxicating liquors as non-holders, 9 Apothecaries, and 18 other persons under the 5th section of the new Statute.

Congressional.
WASHINGTON, May 13, 1856.

SENATE. In the Senate this morning a motion was passed directing the Secretary of War to estimate the cost of making Hunter's Point, in Long Island Sound, navigable for the largest ships of war.

The Senate also agreed to report a committee of conference on the deficiency bill.

Mr Cass concluded his remarks commenced yesterday, saying with regard to Kansas that the recent troubles in that territory had not in the least weakened his faith in the great doctrine of the right of man to govern himself.—He condemned the everlasting discussion of the slavery question, which was quadrennially revived with increased virulence on the eve of each Presidential election. The south does not secede with the social system of the north, and the north would follow its example were it ever to do so. He should be the happiest and most contented man alive to-day the freest nation on the face of the globe.

Mr Clifton, speaking on the question of the Sand Bars, contended that this country ought no longer to submit to such an exaction. The power with Denmark had been abrogated and nothing that could now be said or done could restore it. The notice of the President was given that for 60 days after the expiration of the year this country would take no step on the subject, but such notice did not revive the treaty. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Jones of Pennsylvania, in reply to the remarks of his colleague, Mr. Fuller, denied on unquestionable authority that Mr. Ross was chairman of the committee which framed and reported to the meeting at Lancaster resolutions denunciatory of the Missouri Compromise. It was published in 1856.

The House adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the Deficiency Bill, from which had been stricken an appropriation of $500,000 for the continuation of the Washington Aqueduct. 210,000 copies of the Agricultural portion of the Patent Office Report were ordered printed.

Mr. Evans depicted the fatal consequences to an inconsiderable which must result from the continued agitation of the Slavery question, and invited the South to stand firm, in an unbroken phalanx, against the invaders of their constitutional rights. Adjourned.

Important Law Decision.
A decision was filed by Judge Ingersoll today, in the Mail Steamship case of A. G. Sloan against M. O. Roberts and others. The application for an injunction restraining Cromwell & Rogers from acting as agents, is denied.

Disturbance at Covington.
CINCINNATI, May 13.

A disturbance occurred yesterday at Covington, where the Germans were celebrating the day. Several boys were roughly handled by the Germans, and Marshals Butts and Harvey, attempting to interfere, were badly wounded, one with a pistol shot and the other with a sabre. Great excitement ensued, a large crowd collected, and the aid of the U. States troops from the Newport garrison demanded. This demand was refused, when the mob proceeded to the use of stones and fire arms. Some blows were given the 2 officers, were seriously injured. Five of the German turncers have been murdered voluntarily, when order was restored.

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U S PATENT OFFICE WASHINGTON

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Exchange St.,

BOSTON

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS —The subscriber, (late Agent of the U S Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) is prepared to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors heretofore. He has made arrangements, whereby on application, descriptions prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid by others,) will be remitted by him or any of his agents to obtain a patent, and the whole business can be done within thirty days after the reception

This Agency is not only the largest in New England but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be obtained elsewhere The testimonials below will prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL

THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY he would say that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are there such facilities for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides having extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers and Drawings necessary to the procurement of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared and advance rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions and infringements of patents All necessary for a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar Assignments recorded at Washington Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and all the foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability

TESTIMONIALS

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R H EDDY, Esq., of Boston, was a practising solicitor before the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. The number of applications for patents which he then wrote few if any, persons acting in that capacity with any so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them at early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office,

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents

[From the pen of the Commissioner.]

"AUGUST, 17 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R H EDDY, Esq., of Boston has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as Solicitor He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules and practice of the office I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
